COLEMAN HONORS WAR DEAD IN REMEMBRANCE DAY SERVICE

Citizens Join With Legionnaires in Solemn Service—Address Delivered by Vice-President S. C. Short Coronation Medals Presented in Recognition of Faithful Service to Miss Yuill and Mayor Pattinson.

Canada's and the Empire's war dead, were honored in Remembrance Day services throughout Canada to-day, and Coleman with other Pass towns joined in the sacred observances of the day.

Meeting at the town hall, Coleman Legionnaires and ex-service men, Girl Guides and Brownies with their officers, headed by the Citizens Band and a detachment of Royal Canadian Mounted Police, marched to the Community hall for the annual service to pay tribute to the fallen.

Many loyal citizens who still remember the debt they owe to those who fought and died on Flanders Fields joined with the local organizations in solemn service, at which the principal address was given by Vice-President Sidney C. Short, of the Canadian Legion. He paid tribute to our fallen heroes which made a deep impression on the people. Not with the intention of glorifying war but to impress on all the necessity of striving for peace in a war-torn world was his address made, in which he quoted the well-known poem of Colonel McCrea, "In Flanders Fields."

President Walter S. Purvis was chairman, and assisting in the service were Rev. H. J. Bevan.

The Lost Is Found

W. R. Jones, employed as electrician by International Coal Co., went out on Saturday to hunt in the vicinity of Crow's Nest mountain. He was taken out to Sam Sagoff's camp, whence he started off alone. Not returning to work on Monday morning, and being absent on Tuesday as well, fears were expressed for his safety, and on Tuesday afternoon Constables Klassen and Rawsthorn of the R.C.M.P. equipped themselves for a search. Going to Sagoff's camp, they found that the lost man had just come in, almost exhausted, and his food supply used up. He denied having been lost, but it is surmised that the cloudy weather made it difficult for him to keep his bearings. There is deep snow in the district over which he wandered. He was very grateful to the police and was quickly brought to town.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Mrs. Sam Sagoff, accompanied by her husband, left on Tuesday for Edmonton, where she will undergo treatment in University hospital.

Miss Wilma Halliwell, nurse-in-training at University hospital, Edmonton, is expected home shortly for a rest, after having undergone an operation for appendicitis at the hospital.

Lethbridge Maple Leafs gave Calgary hockey a stunning blow on Wednesday evening with an 8-6 win over Calgary Bronks at Victoria arena. These two teams meet Saturday night at Lethbridge. 14 goals in one game does not speak very well for the defence of either team.

Premier Aberhart denies from the Prophetic Bible Institute that the provincial government is interfering in civic elections; then in the next sentence asks support for his protegee in Calgary against Mayor Davison. Can one place any reliance in the statements of such a man, whose views and policies are as shifty as the weather-cock on a steeple?

Local News

Mrs. Alex. Easton entertained a number of friends at bridge at her home last Friday.

Mrs. C. McQuarrie and twin daughters returned after several weeks visiting relatives and friends in Nova Scotia.

A number of friends met at Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lonsbury's on Wednesday evening to give them a surprise party on their 38th wedding anniversary.

Wm. Bell, president of the hockey booster club, stated Tuesday that enough money had been promised to put the booster club over its objective of $1000, with several parties yet to be solicited.

To meet the increased demand for building material, Excel Builders Supply Co. has recently increased its lumber stock to over half a million feet, the largest stock in southern towns outside of Calgary.

Miss Lois Naylor of Montreal, niece of Mr. and Mrs. James Naylor of Coleman, is spending a week here as their guest. She is enroute to Vancouver where she will be employed as a social service worker. She will attend the wedding of her cousin, Miss Betty Naylor, whose marriage is to take place in Vancouver on Nov. 15.

The Girl Guides and Rangers of Coleman held a joint shower for Miss Ruth Morrison, district commissioner, on Monday evening in the parish hall. Entertainment during the evening consisted of a "Major Bowes" program and a mock wedding. The girls presented Miss Morrison with a tea set in Mikado china.

Extensive Repairs to Skating Rink Will Add to Comfort of Spectators ---Curling Rink Also Improved

Much needed repairs are being made in both skating and curling rinks this week. In the skating rink the dance floor which was stored at the northeast end of the rink has been removed, seats being built in its place. The board fence surrounding the playing area has been painted white, as well as the walls of the arena and overhanging beams and girders. The seats have been repainted in a gray color, and numbered in black, being easily visible for customers to find their seats. A large porch has been built over the entrance with doors pointing towards the Motordrome, this will stop the cold winds from sweeping into the arena as in previous years.

Contractor D'Appolonia is at the present time shingling the roof of the south section of the arena, heavy winds having ripped the paper from the roof and giving no shelter to the ice from the melting snow.

In the curling rink, a portion of the partition in the waiting room has been removed, enlarging the room to take care of the curlers and visitors who are expected to attend the Crow's Nest Pass bonspiel. It also affords a view of all ice sheets without the discomfort of having to leave a cosy fire to see the games.

A number of curlers were at work this week whitewashing the walls so that the light will be reflected on the ice sheets. A double wall was built on the east end of the arena to eliminate drifting snow from getting on the ice. An unused window in the club room will be torn out and a door built in its place.

"Salute to Valour" at Palace

The official motion pictures of the Vimy Pilgrimage organized by the Canadian Legion, in July, 1936, will be shown at this theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday. Announced as the most dramatic event in the history of Canada for twenty years, it gives the whole show as caught by the many government cameras in England, France, Scotland and Belgium. The local branch of the Canadian Legion urges all who can to see this epic film.

"Salute to Valour" Matinee

A matinee showing of the above picture will be held at the Palace at 4 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 16, in order to give the younger people from the schools an opportunity to see it.

Benefits of Home Improvements

Home Improvement Loans for the year in Alberta total 2,226, for the amount of $951,553.63. For the Dominion the total is 28,275 loans for an amount of $11,001,817.52. The report of the National Employment Commission states: "Few cities, towns or villages have failed to come through the first year of the plan's operations minus some improvements. Homes have been made cleaner, brighter, safer, more sanitary. In many cases a fire hazard has been eliminated by the timely installation of modern heating or lighting facilities. Old materials have given place to new, and many drab, shabby homes now appear in an attractive guise due to the simple miracle of fresh paint."

Women to Broadcast

Alberta women during the next few months will take an active part in provincial political affairs. Every third Thursday, commencing Nov. 18, from 3.30 to 3.45 p.m., under the direction of Mrs. J. P. Ferguson, Trochu, president of Alberta Women's Liberal Association, talks will be given over a network of provincial stations. Mrs. R. L. Nicolson, Calgary, will give the first broadcast.

Editor Bartlett Bereaved

Editor Bartlett received a telegram on Monday announcing the death of his mother in Newfoundland, aged 85 years. Her husband pre-deceased her about seven years ago. He was formerly inspector of police in the government service of Newfoundland. Surviving members of the family besides Mr. Bartlett of Blairmore are three sons in Newfoundland, Robert in Detroit, and a daughter living at home. The youngest son was killed in an automobile crash at Chatham, Ont., in June.

Alberta newspapers have retained Hon. J. L. Ralston, former minister of national defence for Canada, one of the highest legal authorities in the Dominion, to present their case to the courts in connection with Premier Aberhart's attempt to muzzle the Alberta newspapers.

The Victoria Rebekah lodge held a whist drive on Tuesday night in the Oddfellows hall, the prize winners being Mrs. J. Derbyshire and Mrs. A. Cornett, and the travelling prizes were won by Mrs. W. Burrows and Mrs. R. Parry. 14 tables were in play, and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

Canadian Pacific Has Newest In Locomotives

Power, speed, an attractive semi-streamlined appearance, and the ability to haul heavy transcontinental trains more than 800 miles without change of engine are the outstanding features of 90 new 4-6-4 locomotives, numbering from 2820 to 2845, recently brought out by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

H. B. Bowen, chief of Motive Power and Rolling Stock, Canadian Pacific Railway, has embodied in the design of the locomotives the popular semi-streamlined appearance which he first developed in the 3000 class Jubilee type engines, as well as many of the other interesting details which were developed in connection with the Jubilee design, and which have been proven to be satisfactory in service.

Even more important than the trim appearance of the new locomotives, however, is their performance. Five of them, equipped with booster, each has a tractive effort of 57,000 pounds, which means that one engine can haul 4,789 tons or a weight approximating that of 100 loaded freight cars. As for staying power—they will be used on long runs such as the 813 miles of heavy grades and sharp curves between Toronto and Fort William and the 832 miles between Winnipeg and Calgary, where they will operate without change of engine. Latest engineering developments are incorporated in these newest Canadian locomotives, making them ideal either for fast passenger or heavy freight trains.

This new group of locomotives together with 20 lighter locomotives of the 4-4-4 type now under construction, combined with the power already in service will give the Canadian Pacific Railway one of the largest fleets of powerful modern locomotives on the North American Continent.

Irrigation And Immigration

Two major questions of public policy are at the present time engaging a good deal of attention in Western Canada, frequent reference being made to them at meetings of organizations and in the news and editorial columns of the daily press. They are the problems of irrigation and immigration.

On the face of it, it may appear that these two questions have little or nothing in common with one another but a little reflection shows that they are, or ought to be, closely related when either subject is brought up for discussion and consideration.

Their relationship becomes apparent when it is remembered that the economic fate of the farmer of the present day in the West and that of the future settler is dependent upon the presence or absence of sufficient moisture to ensure the growth of field crops and the maturity of livestock, and when consideration is given to the probability, nay almost the certainty, that the West will again sometime in the future be subjected the ravages of drought.

Much of the present day opposition to immigration would vanish into thin air if there were some assurance that the next visitation of drought conditions would witness a supply of irrigable water in storage for the maximum acreage that could be served from this source in such an eventuality.

History, as demonstrated by geological data and revealed in the growth of trees over the past 200 or 300 years, has shown that the prairies for centuries have been subject to recurrent periods of drought of varying intensity and duration and there is no reason to believe that in this respect history will not repeat itself in the future. In fact, meteorological and other authorities appear to be in unanimous agreement on this point and only recently one expert was quoted as stating that the West will always be subject to drought periods.

This being taken into account it appears to be a rational suggestion that advantage should be taken of the experiences of the past eight years to provide, as soon as possible, for the storage of available water to the maximum extent of engineering feasibility.

To some extent this is being done under the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act, but where the programs being carried out or mapped out for future undertaking meet the desideratum of maximum engineering possibility is debatable.

It is true that it would be folly to attempt to carry out projects which are beyond the realm of engineering feasibility, but there are some authorities who contend that some schemes which come within this scope should not be undertaken because they are not economically sound, in other words, they would be so expensive that they could not possibly be self supporting. Crop returns could not support the overhead, is the contention.

It is just these projects, those which are feasible from the engineer's viewpoint but regarded in some quarters as economically unsound which might well be subjected to further scrutiny and survey in the hope that some measures might be devised to relieve them, if constructed, of some portion of the overhead which seems to be the stumbling block.

If, for example, these projects in the doubtful economic category could be utilized as a form of public works program, financed substantially by grants in aid from the Dominion treasury, at least to the extent to which cash is now being donated for the assistance of the same number of men who are idle, can it be doubted that some of these undertakings might be relieved of sufficient carrying charges to bring them within the scope of economically feasible undertakings as well as engineering possibilities?

It has been urged that the Dominion government has no legal authority under the British North America Act to carry out public works except through grants to the provinces, but assistance presumably can be legally given in that form and, if so, why not?

The point is that large sums of money are now being expended from the Federal treasury to sustain thousands of families without giving them an opportunity to contribute a quid pro quo. If some of this money could be utilized to provide work for a substantial number on projects which would be of permanent benefit to the principal industry of the West, agriculture, it would serve the double purpose of maintaining the morale of large numbers and possibly of making economically feasible some projects which are now in the doubtful class by relieving them of a portion of the carrying charges. At any rate, the idea is worthy of further investigation on the part of the authorities.

While immigration as a topic has been more or less shelved during the summer months and particularly after it became apparent that the West as a unit was to sustain this year a disaster of the greatest magnitude there are indications that efforts are being made to actively promote settlement schemes in the immediate future. Brigadier-General Hornby was recently quoted as stating that the time for talk has passed and action must be taken and Commissioner Lamb of the Salvation Army is touring the West, presumably particularly interested in the question of migration from the British Isles.

To the average individual farmer and farmer organizations any proposal to push immigration and settlement schemes at this time appears to be unpropitious, but to the extent to which crop yields can be assured in future through irrigation and conservation projects, to that extent at least, opposition to plans to bring more people into the country to engage in agricultural pursuits would diminish.

Germany Is Making Shoes And Gloves From Fish Skin
Germany's efforts toward raw material independence are brought out in an exhibition of shoes and gloves manufactured from fish skins. The exhibition shows that the manufacture of leather from fish skins is increasing rapidly, and it is reported that highly satisfactory tests have proved the strength and durability of this leather. Many concerns exhibit gloves and shoes of widely differing patterns. It is declared that fish leather articles will soon appear in retail trade.

Called A Perfect Crime

Collection Of 70,000 Banknotes Disappears From Owner's Home
London's perfect crime—the theft of the $250,000 Avonmore collection of banknotes, unsaleable in the open market—has just been discovered. The collection of 70,000 notes, in 110 leather-bound books, vanished from the home of Frederick Ernest Catling. There was nothing to show how the thieves entered the house. There were no fingerprints, no marks on any window, and no one heard a sound.
The steel, asbestos-lined safe, six feet high and four feet broad, had been neatly forced open. It had an ordinary patent lock.

Royal Ulster Rifles

Organized In 1798, And Engaged In Battles During Last 150 Years
The Royal Ulster Rifles, raised in 1798, carries on its colors the battle honors of most of the major battles in which British troops have been engaged in the last 150 years.

Its allied regiment in the Canadian militia is the Lorne Rifles, of Georgetown, Ont.

The Ulsters were composed of the old 83rd and 86th foot. The 83rd was raised in Dublin for service in the West Indies, while the latter was a Shropshire regiment, being first known as the Shropshire Volunteers. When the present system was adopted, the two were combined as the Royal Ulster Rifles.

Following the treaty with the Free State in 1922, five famous Irish regiments disappeared from British army lists. The Royal Irish, however, were retained, their name being changed to the Royal Ulster Rifles and a recruiting area in northern Ireland being allotted to them.

The regiment fought under the Duke of Wellington throughout the Peninsular War of 1808-14, and was represented at all the big battles of the famous campaign, including Talavera, Bourbon, Busaco, Fuentes D'Onor, Ciudad Rodrigo, Badajoz, Salamanca, Vittoria, Nivelle, Orléans and Toulouse.

Both battalions served in India during the mutiny of 1857, and the colors carry "Central India" to commemorate the regiment's services. In the Boer War the Second Battalion served throughout the campaign.

The Great War saw the Ulsters in action at the Battle of Mons in 1914, and thereafter they were in every major engagement in France and Flanders until 1918.

Other battalions were at the Suvla Landing in Gallipoli and at the Battle of Sari Bair, later serving in the Palestine campaign and taking part in the several battles of Gaza and the capture of Jerusalem.

Air Line Pilots

Will Wear Uniform Of Navy Blue And Of Navy Cut

Style notes for Trans-Canada Air Lines pilots have been issued.

The well-dressed pilot will wear a uniform of navy blue and of navy cut, and he will look much like an officer of the royal navy.

A pattern uniform, soon to be sent to the operating department at Winnipeg for suggestions as to details of a double-breasted "monkey jacket" and trousers known as "slacks." An immaculate crease, too, will grace them.

Caps, it was announced, will not be worn in the planes, but pilots will have small toques to wear in cold weather. Rank badges have not yet been decided upon.

Insignia of the line, formally approved by directors, consists of a maple leaf within a circle 20 inches in diameter. The circle is of gold rimmed with blue. Imposed on the leaf, which is in autumn colors, is a conventionalized bird in flight—somewhat similar to Imperial Airways' device—and the gold letters "T.C.A."

The design will be placed on port and starboard sides of the plane's nose forward of the pilot's cab.

"Canada 1937"

This Season's Broadcasts Bringing A New Experience To Canadian Listeners

The radio series "Canada 1937" which scored such success last season started again last week. This season, the most spectacular of Canadian broadcasts will be heard Friday evenings at 10:30 p.m., E.S.T. Outstanding commentators under the guidance of Vernon Bartlett will again speak from Europe—an interview in Canada probing for answers to the questions of the "man in the street."

Lionel Shapiro, Canadian correspondent in New York, will speak from N.B.C. studios, relating such latest happenings of the Gay White Way as are of interest to Canadian listeners.

A new technique will be introduced in the talks on Canada to make the very pulse of the nation audible to listeners throughout the country. Mr. Walter Bowles will broadcast from a different locality each week, telling of that district's contribution to Canada's progress and interviewing "action builders" who make that progress possible.

Yet another outstanding feature of the program will be the music—every selection will be specially arranged for the large orchestra and choir that is being used.

In sponsoring these broadcasts—to be again produced by Victor George—Imperial Tobacco Company of Canada, Limited, is bringing a new experience to Canadian listeners. These Friday evening programs are live demonstration of the fact that Canadian broadcasts are equal to the challenge for something new and spectacular.

Had No Giant Boats

But Seafaring Men Were Fearless In The Old Days

The London correspondent of the Ottawa Journal says: There has been a happy ending to the sea drama of Endeavour I. Having parted her tow-ropes in an Atlantic storm, and not been seen or heard of for some days, Endeavour I. was made a stunt press sensation. Her continuous welcome amazed her sturdy skipper and crew.

But how strangely our views about ships and the sea have changed. Today we are appalled by the thought of a 100-ton yacht crossing the Atlantic and maybe American yachtsmen will now modify their obsolete Cup conditions. But this view is due purely to our modern obsession with great 60,000-ton liners. The Queen Mary warps our historical perspective. Drake's Fleeter, afterwards christened Golden Hind, in which nearly four centuries ago he circumnavigated the globe and was exactly the same tonnage as Endeavour I. Most of his accompanying ships were even smaller. The Elizabeth was only 80 tons. Now it was the men who were giants. Then it was the ships.

ALICE STEVENS' RECIPES

HOME MADE CANDY MAKES POPULAR CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Christmas is almost here. Times are hard and you are finding it difficult to do much Christmas shopping. Why not plan to make a number of your gifts in your own kitchen?

If you have also high-pressure salesmanship to commercialize your Christmas, you have lost the true spirit of the first Christmas. The loving thoughts back of the gift rather than the gift itself are what count most. This year the gift should be inexpensive and practical rather than expensive and useless. If you have also usually wrapped away and forgotten.

Why not visit your cellar shelves and the cold water test is quite a good one. These would make very lovely gifts. When making your candy make a little extra and some of your friends would be very happy to receive a jar.

A box of home-made candy is very much enjoyed by every member of the family. In many cases the ingredients are better than the bought candy and it is certainly much cheaper. On the farm you can get the cold water test is quite valuable. Use cold water and see the kind of ball that a few drops of the candy will make in this cold water. Puddings and maple creams need to be boiled to the soft-ball stage. The candy will make a ball and need to be boiled to the hard-ball stage.

The humidity of the atmosphere is also important. It is harder to make good candy on a dull, cloudy day than on a bright, clear day. Boil the candy a little longer on a dull day. Have as little steam as possible in the kitchen. See that the kettle is not boiling.

Candy is very apt to be grainy. That can be avoided by using a little corn syrup, vinegar or cream of tartar. There is a chemical change takes place in the sugar and the addition of one of these hastens the change. If the sugar does not make this change, the candy is sure to be grainy.

Do not stir the candy while boiling. The sugar should be dissolved before the candy starts to boil. Stir the sugar until it is dissolved. If crystals of sugar form on the sides of the pan during the boiling, wipe them off with a small piece of cloth tied to a fork. If the candy is covered during the first half of the boiling, these crystals are melted by the steam and there is less danger of the candy becoming sugary.

If the candy is to be beaten, as in fudges and maple creams, allow the candy to cool before starting to beat. Cool the candy, until you can hold the pan comfortably on your hand. The candy will make a ball and need to be boiled to the hard-ball stage.

2 cups brown sugar
1 tablespoon butter
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon flavoring
Melt the butter, add sugar and milk. Stir until mixture starts to boil. Boil without stirring until the mixture forms a soft ball when dropped in cold water. (This will take about 12 minutes). Cool and beat. Nuts and fruit may be added, if desired.

A Chinese Bomber

This Is A Story Of Nerve And Hazardous Daring

The tale of the Chinese bomber deserves to pass down in history, how at dusk when the Japanese bombers were returning home, he joined the four planes and travelled along with them, his Chinese markings getting no attention in the gloom. He switched on his lights when they switched theirs and circled the airdrome along with them.

One by one the Japanese bombers landed, and when the four of them were drawn up along with three others which were on the ground, down swoops the Chinese airman to within 500 feet and plants two bombs among them and seven perfectly good Japanese bombing planes were gone to the place where all good, or bad, bombing planes go. Then this neat little bit of business thoroughly done, off drones the Chinese airman to his own lines. A story of nerve, initiative and hazardous daring, which deserves to live—Halifax Chronicle.

Farm Tires Show Big Increase

Nearly All Tractors Now Equipped With Rubber Tires

Attended by 115,000 farmers, over 70 tractors competed in the field at one time during the International Plowing Match held at Fergus, Ontario, from October 12 to 15. Only six tractors were on steel-jug wheels, the remainder being rubber-tired, which reflects the tremendous growth of the rubber tire for tractors since they were introduced at the Ottawa Match in 1930. Outstanding in performance were the tractors on Firestone Ground Grip Tires, as they won eight out of nine of the first awards, including the grand championship, captured by Fred Timbers, of Ringwood, Ontario, for the third consecutive time.

Cancer Control

Fourteen Thousand Dollars Has Been Granted Yearly For This Purpose

An annual sum of $14,000 has been placed at the disposal of the newly formed cancer control department of the Canadian Medical Association, Dr. A. D. Kelly, assistant secretary of the association, announced the money, income from $500,000 collected for the King George V. Memorial Cancer Fund, has been made available to the association on condition it organizes for the control of cancer and for advancement of study of the disease by doctors, Dr. Kelly said.

READY TO BRING YOU RELIEF IN MINUTES

THE REASON "ASPIRIN" WORKS SO FAST

Drop on "Aspirin" tablet into a tumbler of water and see the result.

By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is dissolving. This speed of solution enables "Aspirin" tablets to start "taking hold" of headaches and similar pain a few minutes after taking.

YOU can pay as high as you want for remedies claimed to relieve the pain of Headache, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Sciatica, etc. But the medicine so many doctors generally approve—the one used by thousands of families daily—is "Aspirin".

Simply take 2 "Aspirin" tablets with a half glass of water. Repeat, if necessary, according to directions. Usually this will ease such pain in a remarkably short time.

For quick relief from such pain which exhausts you and keeps you awake at night—ask for "Aspirin". "Aspirin" tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited, of Windsor, Ontario. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

One Of Hardest Things

Keeping Cheerful In The Face Of Trivial Annoyances

The hardest thing is to keep cheerful under the little things that come from uncongenial surroundings, the very insignificance of which adds to their power to annoy, because they cannot be wrestled with and overcome, as in the case of larger hurts. Some disagreeable habit in one to whom we may owe respect and duty, and which is a constant irritation to our sense of fitness of things, may demand of us a great moral force to keep the spirit serene than an absolute wrong committed against us. In the one case endurance is all that is possible; in the other we may sometimes rightfully fight—and there is a world of comfort in the powers of action.

Difficulties Met With Chasing Rum Runners In Coastal Patrol Work

Ottawa.—Immunity from seizure enjoyed by rum-running vessels beyond the three-mile limit is one of the difficulties the marine section of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has to encounter in its coastal patrol work.

In his annual report Sir James MacBrien, commissioner of the force, says:

"One of the basic weaknesses in dealing with rum-running vessels from a preventive angle is the fact that the 12-mile jurisdiction seawards is at present limited strictly to vessels registered in Canada, having in mind that some 60 per cent. of the rum-running craft are registered in other British possessions.

"The present situation gives these latter vessels immunity outside three-mile limit. However, there is reason to hope that as a result of negotiations with the imperial government, vessels registered in other British possessions may come under the jurisdiction of the Canadian customs act up to the 12-mile limit."

Smuggling was made so tough the illegal liquor vendors had to raise their prices. Assistant Commissioner F. J. Mead found on an inspection trip in the lower St. Lawrence area. Smuggled alcohol rose from $12 to $18 and $20 per can and the incentive to purchase it in preference to legal liquor was greatly reduced.

Total seizures under both customs and excise acts during the year ending last March 31 was 3,047 compared with 3,010 the previous year, but the quantities of liquor, mash and the number of stills seized were considerably in excess of the previous year's totals.

Although water-borne traffic of liquor into Quebec was curbed, runners continued to bring it in by automobile. Using fast cars and enlisting assistance of farmers along the border they created a problem for law enforcement officers but some progress was made in curtailing the inflow.

Friendship With Italy

Move Made To Restore Old Feeling Of Confidence

London.—British statesmen spoke anew of friendship with Italy and of peace in the Mediterranean.

In the House of Commons Prime Minister Chamberlain reported on the personal letters he exchanged last July with Premier Mussolini. They agreed, he said, the "old feeling of mutual confidence and affection" could be restored if misunderstandings were cleared away by conversations.

In the house of lords the Marquess of Dufferin and Ava, under-secretary for the colonies, said: "We have no other wish than to live in peace and friendship with our neighbors in the Mediterranean."

Lord Dufferin said the government's sole concern was to protect the Mediterranean as a highway for world traffic. The "gentlemanly agreement" between the United Kingdom and Italy for maintenance of the status quo and for peaceful trade through that sea and the Suez canal, however, "for various reasons did not have the full effect intended."

The prime minister, recovered from an attack of gout, presided over the weekly cabinet meeting. He reviewed in the house events leading up to the "personal" exchange of letters with Mussolini.

TO HEAD HYDRO

Dr. Thomas H. Hogg, chief hydraulic engineer of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission, will become chairman of the Commission in succession to Mr. T. Stewart Lyon. He has acted as consultant to the Dominion Government upon power projects in many parts of Canada. He is a native of Chippewa in the Niagara district, near the great cataract whose harnessing provides one of the world's greatest power development systems.

Show Steady Increase

Income Tax Collections Have Been Greater This Year

Ottawa.—A steady rise in income tax collections was shown in figures released by the department of national revenue. In the first seven months of the fiscal year, collections totalled $99,202,556, compared with $84,072,589.

Gains were made in nearly every district. Toronto led with collections of $24,338,703, an increase of $5,710,965. Montreal was second with collections of $26,465,463, an increase of $4,101,541. London was third with $9,070,541, an increase of $1,229,567, and Vancouver fourth, with $6,814,711, an increase of $1,655,551.

Ottawa was the only district to show a decrease this year from last year's collections reporting $5,589,190 and $6,856,981.

The following shows collections by districts with the increase over last year in brackets:

Edmonton, $404,008 ($70,882); Calgary, $1,058,305 ($22,574); Saskatoon, $184,478 ($64,881); Regina, $276,715 ($72,779); Winnipeg, $2,427,581 ($508,785).

London.—A silver plate appropriately inscribed was presented to Lord Baden-Powell, chief scout, and Lady Baden-Powell, head of the Girl Guides, at a private dinner here.

The occasion was the 25th anniversary of their wedding and the presentation was made by the Princess Royal on behalf of the Boy Scouts' and Girl Guides' Associations of Great Britain.

Revised Building Totals

Conference Adopts New Regulations On Old Age Pensions

Ottawa.—New regulations and amendments to those now in use were unanimously adopted by the Dominion-provincial conference on old age pensions which closed a four-day session here. The changes will not be made public until they have been approved by the Dominion and provincial governments.

Finance Minister Dunning, who called and presided over the conference, expressed great satisfaction at the "co-operation and constructive attitude" that marked the deliberations.

Changes proposed in administration, the minister said, were designed to meet the general objectives of the conference. These objectives were to assure that no person justly entitled to pension under Dominion and provincial legislation should be deprived of that right, to obtain greater uniformity and efficiency in administration and to eliminate abuses and unjustifiable costs.

At least two representatives attended from every province to a total of 25, with five representatives of the finance department and some legal advisers.

The interprovincial board on old age pensions, provided for in the act but which has not met for some years, was reconstituted by order of the governor-in-council, with two members from each province, and two from the Dominion government.

Finance Minister Dunning and Deputy Minister W. C. Clark. The provincial members of this board are in each case the minister responsible for administration and directing head of the old age pensions branch of the provincial government.

Present with the exception of Labor Minister George S. Pearson of British Columbia. "I have been attending Dominion-provincial conferences over the last 20 years and have missed very few that I have been held in that time," Mr. Dunning said. "In my experience I have never been present at a conference which approached its task and carried on its deliberations with such a spirit of co-operation and such a constructive attitude."

"It is a great thing for Canada that a conference of this sort, representing nine provincial governments and the Dominion government, has been able to reach a unanimous agreement on all the problems placed before it. Its value is to be measured, not only by its contribution to more efficient and more economical administration of this special legislation, but in what it augurs for successful co-operation in other problems of government."

It was understood one regulation, which required a pension applicant must have five years' residence in the province to which he applies, will be dropped, since all the provinces are now operating under the Dominion Act.

Other changes will concern residence in Canada, naturalization, methods of assessing income, calculating pension awards and dealing with pension changes. Transfer of properties and responsibility of children for the support of their parent were also among the questions studied.

It was unanimously agreed that all provinces be urged to enact and enforce adequate parents' maintenance acts to ensure all those financially able bear a proper share in the cost of their aged parents.

Should Support Parents

Children Should Be Compelled To Lend Aid When Able To Do So

Ottawa.—Children able to support their aged parents should be compelled to do so rather than leave the parents as a burden on the state, the Dominion-provincial conference on old age pensions agreed unanimously.

The conference, to which all provinces sent representatives, recommended "adequate" parents' maintenance acts be passed by all provinces and enforced effectively.

In the third day of its meeting the conference continued discussions of administration problems and practices in connection with age and nationality requirements, determination of income and calculation of amount of pension, increase or reduction or suspension of pensions, time and method of making pension assessments and auditing and questions involved in control of property transfer.

New regulations and agreements regarding payment of pensions to blind persons aged 40 or over occupied a considerable part of the day.

Presentation To Baldwin

London.—The city of London paid tribute to Earl Baldwin for his many years of public service to the Empire. The former prime minister was presented with a gold casket containing an address illuminated on parchment. Following the ceremony a procession including Lord Baldwin and officials of the city drove in ornate coaches to the Mansion House for luncheon.

Spirited Fighting Is Under Way On All Fronts In China

Shanghai.—The precarious Japanese foothold on the south bank of Soochow creek became almost untenable under the fury of a heavily-reinforced Chinese attack.

After a day and night of bitter fighting the Japanese claimed to have established a 1,000-yard long position on the south bank of the creek which makes through the international settlement to the west.

A survey of the front line showed the Japanese were holding a sector near Rubicon village where they had driven a narrow wedge into the Chinese position about three miles west of Shanghai.

Foreign naval observers reported heavy concentrations of Japanese warships in the Whangpoo river with 42 mm-of-war between Shanghai and Woosung and some 40 more near the mouth of the river.

They expressed belief the Japanese intended to make a landing in force in the Footing industrial area, just across the Whangpoo from Shanghai's Bund.

Thousands of fresh, well-equipped Chinese troops moved up to the battlefield stretching northwest from Shanghai. Chinese Legionnaires struck again and again at the point of the Japanese advance.

Aided by these reinforcements, Chinese troops fought furiously against the Japanese veterans. Ignoring the circling bombing planes and the Japanese heavy artillery, the Chinese lashed out at the Japanese troops.

The Chinese positions in the rear areas were so formidable it was considered likely the Chinese could succeed in holding up the Japanese for some time. It was also apparent the Chinese intend to hold their right flank on the international settlement boundary.

Completing powerful barbed wire entanglements and sandbag barriers contiguous to positions of the British and French guard outposts near Hungsiao road.

Japanese forces trying to drive Chinese south of their Soochow creek positions bombarded the Jesuit field park area near the British army outposts.

The Japanese drive suffered a setback, a Chinese spokesman declared, when Chinese artillery destroyed two of three bridges Japanese engineers had thrown over Soochow creek.

Spirited fighting was under way on all fronts in China, but neither Chinese nor Japanese were able to achieve clear-cut gains toward major objectives. It appeared a temporary stalemate had developed. Japanese continued widespread aerial activities.

On the Shanghai front Japanese made small gains at heavy sacrifices but were unable to convert their advances on the south bank of Soochow Creek.

In North China, the tide of battle shifted back and forth along the Peiping-Hankow railway with Chinese declaring their forces had launched an offensive which carried them northward across the Chang river, 17 miles north of Changteh, in northern Honan province. Japanese at Peiping declared the Chinese attack was repulsed.

Accepts New Post

Dean Alexander Of Alberta University Going To California

Edmonton.—Resignation of Dean W. H. Alexander, first appointee to the University of Alberta faculty, was announced here by Dr. W. A. R. Kerr, president of the university. Dean Alexander, who joined the Alberta faculty in 1908, has accepted the post of senior professor of Latin at the University of California, at Berkeley, Calif.

Patrons Of New Club

Angusville, Man. Fourteen men of this western Manitoba district have formed a bachelor's club. Quinton Broadfoot was elected president, while Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, federal Conservative leader, and Erick F. Willis, Manitoba Conservative leader, all bachelors, were chosen patrons.

Shortage Of Labor

Montreal.—Because of labor shortage in the forests of the province, Quebec's cut for the current season probably will not exceed 450,000,000 cubic feet, Hon. John Bourque, minister of public works, declared.

Britain May Reach Trade Agreement With Insurgents

London.—The full Spanish non-intervention committee was convened to authorize Great Britain to co-operate in Spain toward withdrawal of foreign troops as London carried on commercial negotiations with the insurgents.

Great Britain, with her industries needing raw materials such as Spain's rich deposits of mercury, iron, copper and pyrites, was reported to have all but arrived at an agreement on trade with insurgent Spain.

Reliable sources said the commercial agreement would be on the lines of the existing arrangement with Italy in her unrecognized empire of Ethiopia.

The agreement was not likely to be completed, however, they said, until General Franco provided the foreign office with the result of the "searching inquiry" he promised into the sinking of the British steamship Jean Weems off the Catalan coast.

The agreement was said to mean Great Britain and the insurgents would have recognized agents at each other's capitals. Mr. Chamberlain, who mentioned the areas of insurgent Spain where British are interested in rich mineral deposits, said Franco was fully informed of the negotiations.

Both London's most ardent Franco newspaper, the Daily Mail, and the most enthusiastic pro-Vaenola newspaper, the Daily Herald, said Great Britain was convinced that Franco would win the war. The Herald said the government had decided to accord de facto recognition to General Franco's government at the earliest possible moment "because it had decided Franco is going to win."

The Daily Mail said: "Britain,

Decrease In Bacon Exports

Canada Unable To Send Usual Quantity This Year

Ottawa.—Inability of Canada to maintain her bacon exports to Great Britain in recent months has been met in part by increased British quotas to foreign countries, with a resulting decline in the British price for Canadian bacon of about $3.80 a hundredweight, the department of agriculture reports.

Canadian bacon exports to Britain fell from 42,408 tons last week in May and June to 21,513 weekly in September and 25,513 weekly for the first three weeks of October.

Largest single direct factor in the decline of Canadian bacon exports is thought to be the western Canadian drought, since about half the hog carcasses came from west of the great lakes.

Hamas Facies

Toronto.—Hanni Maurice N. Elendrach charged Facists were responsible for pinning a Swastika emblem and a funeral crepe upon the door of his home here and asked for a public inquiry into Nazi and Fascist activities in Canada. Recently a placard bearing a Swastika was nailed to the door, he said.

Insurgent Air Raid

Eighty Persons Reported Killed And Many Injured

Madrid.—Despatches from Barabastro reported an estimated 80 persons were killed and an undetermined number injured in an insurgent air raid on the city, 100 miles west of Barcelona.

Twelve bi-motored bombers, suddenly attacked Barabastro, only 30 miles from Lerida where 120 were killed in a similar raid recently, releasing a complete cargo of bombs.

Reports from the city said the raid lasted only a few minutes, but was of terrific intensity.

In the Lerida raid, 50 school children were among the victims. Both Lerida and Barabastro are among the northeast Spanish cities included in the government's defence operations along the wide Zaragoza front.

A government communique reported the recapture of positions near Puente de Ebro, on the Aragon front of northeastern Spain, which had been lost recently because of floods. The communique said only desultory firing occurred on the various fronts.

Arrival of a group of Asturian troops on the central front was reported semi-officially.

Officials Re-Elected

Winnipeg.—The four retiring directors of the United Grain Growers Limited were re-elected at the annual meeting here. They were E. J. McLellan, Purple Springs, Alta.; C. E. Hope, Vancouver; S. S. Sears, Nanton, Alta., and Robert Shannon, Grandora, Sask.

On Instalment Plan

Winnipeg.—Manitoba motorists can purchase their 1938 automobile license on the instalment plan, it was announced. New regulations call for 25 per cent of the license by Jan. 1, allowing car owners to operate until May 1, when the other 75 per cent becomes due.

Germany and Italy all want the inside track to the vast mineral resources of insurgent Spain because of their rearmament needs, aside from diplomatic reasons.

"Italy and Germany would see the established favorites because they have given Franco men and munitions. But John Bull holds one ace money which France will need in huge sums if he is victorious in order to establish a regime and rehabilitate Spain."

Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons the British government and the Spanish insurgents were negotiating for appointment of commercial agents.

This did not mean, he declared, de facto diplomatic recognition for General Franco.

"These agents will have no diplomatic status," the premier said.

"There is no intention on the part of the British government to make any variation in the attitude they consistently have adopted toward the contending parties in Spain, which is governed by the international (non-intervention) agreement to which we have subscribed."

"They (the government), however, are bound to take into account their responsibilities for protection of British nationals and British commercial interests throughout the whole of Spain, including those large areas in the northwest and southwest parts of the country as well as the Spanish zone in Morocco of which General Franco's forces are now in effective occupation."

This reference, Chamberlain's recalled recent statements by Spanish insurgent sources here that General Franco will make important concessions to British companies interested in Spanish copper mines.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

TOO LITTLE is known of the early history of Canada by people who have arrived from countries other than those of the British Empire, and even some of those know little of the early settlement of the west and the pioneers, particularly the fur traders of the Hudson's Bay Company and the Nor-Westers. On Sunday evening the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation gave a very interesting recital from Lower Fort Garry, sketching some of the highlights of that historic fort which now is a point of interest to visitors and the people of Winnipeg, it being 18 miles north of that city. Also in Maclean's Magazine a serial story by Alan Sullivan, though fiction, is based on the stirring days of the fur traders when the men of the Hudson's Bay Company and the Nor-Westers struggled for supremacy in the fur trade of the great Northwest. It is good to read and hear of these things, for they bring home a realization of the days when men faced discomfort and hardship in an untamed wilderness which makes life to-day seem to be a featherbed of luxury. Today we depend too much on others instead of our own resourcefulness, as men had to in those days in order to survive. There is danger in too much government paternalism, which tends to make people less vigorous in mind and body, to their own undoing.

IT IS WELL to choose men for the council and school board who by their record have indicated a desire to be of service. In municipal elections there are at times aspirants for office who from selfish motives or with a desire to hit back at someone against whom they have a grudge secure a measure of support. This should not be. When a citizen goes on a council or school board he should remember he is there to serve the best interests of all the ratepayers, and not any particular section or to satisfy a selfish ambition. Honesty of purpose and fair judgment are the main essentials required, and if a man has good business ability, so much the better. To choose candidates indiscriminately is not in the best interests of ratepayers. There needs to be, if we desire sound conduct of our local affairs, serious consideration given to who should be nominated for office. There are all too often snap nominations made which do not result satisfactorily in the conduct of the public's business.

IN ATTEMPTING to "soak the rich," Premier Aberhart really soaks the poor. Taxes invariably are paid by the ultimate consumer. The 2 per cent. sales tax imposed by the present government was withdrawn, presumably because the government found it was soaking the poor. The taxes on banks are paid by the banks' customers, and this is evident to all small business houses who find that additional charges have been in force for bank services since the Aberhart government came into power.

TAX THE BANKS has been the cry of Social Crediters. It may enlighten them to know just how much banks have been taxed. Enquiry at the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce reveals that it pays in provincial tax over $1100.00, an increase of about $700 since the present government was returned. It pays in town and school taxes to the municipal coffers $210.00. Federal taxes are paid from the head office of the bank in Toronto. Now we have our bible institute provincial treasurer stating that another $2,000,000 in taxes against the banks will cost them nothing. The statement is so utterly foolish that it does not bear discussion.

LAST WEEK The Journal printed a statement from a letter written by the Robert Simpson Company's general manager which stated that increased taxes imposed on their goods were paid by the consumer. The plain fact is all too evident that the more taxes that are imposed, the more the people pay, despite Mr. Aberhart's grand stand play that he is soaking the rich to help the poor. He is making it harder for the workingman to pay his way, while he enjoys the luxury of a fine suite at the Macdonald hotel and a life of ease such as he would never would have experienced as a high school teacher in Calgary. And how the docile followers fall for "baloney!"

SOCIAL CREDITERS disavow any liaison with Communists. Reading an editorial in a paper published by Social Crediters in Edmonton,—"To-day and To-morrow,"—it has almost the identical flavor of those published in the Communist papers. The business manager is John Nykiforuk, and the editor is Lucien Maynard, B.A., LL. B., M.L.A. It is starting a defence fund for J. H. Unwin, who is on trial on a charge of criminal libel. And this is the party which would like to control the press. In place of a free press the S. C. party would issue sheets of the type which "To-day and To-morrow" represents—straight propaganda, vile sheets edited by hair-brained individuals who have a lot to learn as to what sane government really is.

HOPE is the railway ticket to success.

Local News

Mrs. Askew of The Pantry Cafe has been in hospital in Lethbridge for six weeks. She is reported to be recovering, after having undergone an operation.

Sam McDonald of the Grand Union hotel staff attended the funeral of Harry Gorrie, his brother-in-law, who died suddenly on Nov. 1, at the home of David Anderson of West Fernie, where he was visiting. He was 50 years of age, and leaves a wife and six children. He came to Fernie from Scotland over thirty years ago, and farmed in Dorr district.

One of the outstanding talks at the teachers convention in Lethbridge last week, reported by one of the Coleman teachers attending, was that of Mr. Turner of Bellevue school, who exhibited samples of work done by a class of children whom he found did not make progress in the ordinary studies, and for whom he organized a special class whereby latent talents in this type of work might be developed.

A car owned by Jack Gordon, of Blairmore, was responsible for damage done to the Coleman Cafe on Saturday afternoon. According to a police report, Mr. Gordon had parked his car at a radio shop north of the cafe. A gust of wind caught the car causing it to move backwards, it mounting the sidewalk and colliding with the corner of the cafe, causing slight damage to the woodwork.

A shower in honor of Miss Ruth Morrison, bride-elect, was held at the home of Mrs. George Kellock on Thursday afternoon of last week. Mrs. J. B. Wilson of Blairmore acted as the bride, appropriately costumed, and Mrs. Stevenson of Hillcrest was the bridesmaid. They brought in the presents in a beautifully decorated basket, to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Percy Salt. Guests from the Pass towns added to those of Coleman made a very merry party, to whom Miss Morrison expressed her thanks for their kindness.

If tempted to give printing orders to out-of-town salesmen, remember that your local printing office employs workers who maintain homes in Coleman, who pay taxes and who make their purchases here. The greater part of the money spent in printing and advertising in your local printing office comes back in trade, whereas if given to outsiders we both lose. Besides, you get GOOD PRINTING at live-and-let-live prices when you deal at home. The Journal has 16 years of service behind it, over ten under the present proprietorship.

The greater part of The Journal's revenue is spent in retail stores, in taxes, light and water and in giving its fair share to, wards all community endeavors for the welfare of Coleman.

J. S. D'Appolonia was a business visitor at Lethbridge on Tuesday.

Miners Meet Management

A meeting of the pit committees of the mines and officials was held on Saturday to discuss the request for an improved grade of coal to miners. It is reported this has been satisfactorily arranged, at a slightly higher cost.

Present at the meeting were General Manager Kellock, mine superintendents H. McDonald and J. J. McIntyre, Alan Brown, J. O. C. McDonald, and W. Chapman, J. Griffiths, J. Atkinson, sr. for McGillivray, and W. Lees, Harold Chamberlain, W. H. Hayson and J. Hadley, for International miners.

Star Creek Foxes In Demand

The sale is reported by Norman E. MacAulay of six young foxes to J. Thompson, reputed to be the highest-class breeder in the province, for his ranch at Midnapore. Recently a field day was held there, at which was present George Callbeck, of Summerside, P. E. I., the original home of the fox breeding industry. He is also chief inspector for Canada for the Fox Breeders Association, and acted as judge at the Thompson ranch, where there were 450 pups this year. Mr. MacAulay considers it a tribute to the quality of his stock when a buyer of note comes to his ranch to purchase new stock.

He also sold eleven head to P. M. Wiltsie of Creston, for breeding purposes. Star Creek ranch was established in 1926, and at present is running about 200 head of select foxes.

PREPARING FOR CHRISTMAS

There will be many who are already preparing for Christmas, for which there are additional purchases above the ordinary to be made. The Journal reminds its readers that there are certain Coleman stores at which can be obtained many fine gift articles and it is not too early to be looking around. Purchases made at leisure are more likely to satisfy the donor and the recipient than if something not entirely suitable is made in a hurry when stocks have been depleted. Watch this paper for advertisements of gift stores which will be a safe guide both in quality and price as to where to make your Christmas gift purchases.

Season tickets for senior hockey games went on sale at McBurney's drug store on Monday. To Pete Oliva and Bill Anderson goes the honor of being the first persons to secure their tickets. Other hockey fans soon followed their example and several of the choice seats have been taken. Only section B, north side and section E, south side, have been reserved for season ticket holders. Sections A and C, north side, and D and F, south side, will also be reserved, these tickets going on sale a few days before each game. A large number of rush seats will also be available.

Max Stigler, secretary of the local miners' union, was a business visitor at Calgary during the week-end.

CARRY YOUR ALKALIZER WITH YOU

—HERE'S THE SENSIBLE THING TO DO

The fastest way to "alkalize" is to carry your alkalizer with you. That's what thousands do now that genuine Phillips' comes in a tiny, peppermint flavored tablet—in a flat tin for pocket or purse. Then you are always ready.
Use it this way. Take 2 Phillips' tablets—equal in "alkalizing" effect to 2 teaspoonsful of liquid Phillips from the bottle. At once you feel "gas," nausea, "over-crowding" from hyper-acidity begin to ease. "Acid headaches," "acid breath," over-acid stomach are corrected at the source. This is the quick way to ease your own distress—avoid offense to others.

WHAT HO!

—By—
RICHARD CONNELL

By Arrangement With Thomas Allen, Publisher, Toronto.

He had adopted "Noblesse Oblige" as his own private motto, but being a Bingley, and living up to it, were not always easy in Bear Falls. There were times, and this was one of them, when he felt an exigent desire to sally forth with a baseball bat, in lieu of a battle-axe, and play requiems on the skulls of his tormentors, beginning with the large, polished skull of Otis G. Wyncoop.

However, the Wyncoopian skull and the other skulls went unmoistened that night, for Ernest counted his and decided to expend his steam on the less sanguine project of arranging his exhibit of birds and beasts for the state fair.

On this labor of love he had toiled, intermittently, for some four years. In natural settings and realistic poses, he had arranged family groups of robins, orioles, quail, sparrows, muskrats, chipmunks, coons, coyotes, rabbits, gophers, wild cats, hawks, crows, badgers, cat-birds, kingfishers, skunks, avalanches, otters and other feathery and furry denizens of Iowa.

Mr. Sloum, dropping in now and then from his booties, had pointed out that the commercial value of this undertaking was highly doubtful, since, as Mr. Sloum put it, the number of folks in Iowa with a craving for a houseful of varmints could be counted on the thumb of an eel. Nevertheless, Ernest worked on. He finished the final feather on the last snipe the day before the fair opened.

CHAPTER II.

As Ernest was the sort of man who gets crowded into corners, and who in restaurants is always given a seat which commands a view of the kitchen, he found himself, and his exhibit, tucked away in an obscure corner of the exhibition hall almost completely hidden from view by the Grundy Cent Grange's display of elephantine pumpkins and mastodontic cheeses.

However, a fellow-townsmen had fared better when the spaces were allotted. Mr. Otis G. Wyncoop, with masterful belittles, had demanded and received the most conspicuous spot in the centre of the great hall. Here a couple of workmen had set up the exhibit of Wyncoop's Wonder Weenies, conceived and designed by Mrs. Wyncoop, personally.

"I intend to give it," stated Mrs. Wyncoop, while in the throes of creation, a "touch of whimsy."

"Oke," said her husband, "only don't forget to feature the product. I'm selling sausages, not whimsies."

"I am aware of that," said Mrs. Wyncoop. "The sausages will not be slighted. I assure you. Now, may I have carte blanche?"

"If you need her, get her," assented Mr. Wyncoop. "Class is what I'm after. I'm a class creature."

"Class you shall have," promised his wife, "but class costs."

"Spunge" away," directed Mr. Wyncoop. "I won't kick at the hill if we win the prize. The ad will be worth thousands to me. Why, say, I could tie a little blue ribbon around each individual weenie and jack up the price."

So Mrs. Wyncoop's fanciful took concrete form, and the result was a floral grove, festooned with a profusion of roses each with a tiny electric light in its artificial bosom. In this colorful bower stood the good horse Tartar, caparisoned now with a saddle and bridle of snow-white leather embellished with rhinestones.

Enthroned on Tartar sat a shapely young lady whose somewhat sketchy costume of gauze was supplemented by a cascade of blonde hair which rippled to her waist. She smiled alluringly at the crowd and waved good when Mrs. Wyncoop was not watching. Mr. Wyncoop assumed that her name was Blanche, and thus, to her surprise, addressed her. Just as this nymph was supposed to be a moot point among those who thronged around the spectacle. Some opined she was Lady Godiva, others maintained she was Joan of Arc, and others held that she was either the Spirit of the Middle West, or Miss Bear Falls. She carried a silver banner which bore the device, in gold on purple, "The Weenie That Won The West." Last there be any lingering doubt as to which weenie merited that distinction, above the whole exhibit a vast sign flashed forth, first in pink, then in amber lights, the word "Wyncoop."

True to her promise, Mrs. Wyncoop had not neglected the less fanciful and more educational side of sausage making. Beside the rosy grove was a tiled compartment which had the antiseptic air of an operating room. Here eight pretty girls in white uniforms which made them look like a squad of lady husars, tended a large machine of gleaming nickel. From its maw, at intervals, emerged the tid-bit that had made Mr. Wyncoop rich and famous. As the new-born weenies came out of the everywhere into the here, they were promptly collared by an efficient young husar and popped onto an electric grill. There they sizzled until another husar, armed with toothpicks, impaled them and presented them to passersby, and, since they were free, the passersby were numerous.

About this exhibit proudly hovered Mr. Wyncoop, who in face and figure looked like a large-scale caricature of one of his own products. However the report that a near-sighted agriculturist from Coon Rapids had attempted to put mustard on Mr. Wyncoop's nose may be set down as a canard started by a jealous competitor. Mr. Wyncoop could be distinguished from his creations by the fact that he wore a tweed suit and had a bass voice.

With him, he slightly bedewed brow ready for the laurel wreath, was his wife, Armina, who wore among other things, her Chicago shoes and her milk coat. The day was mild to the point of downright balminess, but Mrs. Wyncoop wore this furry mark of caste almost as constantly as its original owners. The weather and the wrap conspired to make Mrs. Wyncoop dimly damp, but she stuck to her coat, and vice versa, a martyr to a good cause.

One of the three judges who would presently pass on the exhibits was no less a personage than Mrs. Clara Martha Phelps, active president of three clubs, past president and founder of two others, and a member of a score more, to whom, socially, Mrs. Wyncoop was as an ant-hill to an alp. In her mansion in Des Moines, Mrs. Phelps conducted a celebrated salon at which worthy causes were espoused, swamis and yogis expounded their esoteric philosophies, and papers were read on the Lake Poets, Bach and penology.

To sit in this select circle and inhale fumes of culture was Mrs. Wyncoop's most ardent ambition. So she wore her milk coat, as a badge and a symbol. Mrs. Phelps had one, and Mrs. Wyncoop cherished the hope that Mrs. Phelps would sense that they were sisters under the skin.

Frisking in the shadow of his parents was their son and heir, Master Mervin Wyncoop, in the electric blue and cerise uniform of a brigadier general in the Bear Falls Military Academy, "a he-school for manly boys."

Master Mervin, looking like a junior weenie, was tickling strangers with a feather-duster, bought for that express purpose, and was planning to ruffle the composure of the young lady on the horse as soon as a suitable opportunity presented itself. To keep in training for this enterprise, Master Mervin, every minute or so, snatched with nimble, chubby hands one of the sausages spitting on the grill, and bolted it whole, displaying a pelican-like capacity astonishing in one of his tender years. The many bright brass buttons on his uniform tugged at their moorings, and he began to bulge, visibly, in all directions. Still he continued to stoke himself with sausages, while Wyncoop senior beamed his approval. Just as the rosy Mervin threatened either to contradict all the known laws of physics, or explode, the committee of judges, in solemn procession, approached the Wyncoop exhibit.

Mrs. Clara-Martha Phelps, as befitting her rank, came first, followed by a lean Congressman and a fat Mayor. Mrs. Phelps was a giraffe-shaped lady, two ladies tall, and one lady wide.

Number Of Alberta Patients Not Out Of Line With Normal Rate In Canada

Rate of increase in the number of patients in Alberta Institutions is not "out of line" with the normal rate across Canada, a provincial health department official said at Edmonton.

Commenting on the statement of Capt. Cecil Bull (Lib. South Okanagan) in the British Columbia legislature at Victoria that people were being taken at the rate of three a week to asylums from the Alberta drought area, he stated:

"We have not segregated the patients and therefore cannot say what numbers are being received from particular districts."

"At the Ponoka institution we admit an average of 600 patients a year and let out about 450, leaving the increase at approximately 150, which is about the average rate for Canada."

The name "tin cans" is derived from the term, tin canisters, by which they were known in England during the latter part of the 19th century.

Little Helps For This Week

Be of good courage and He shall strengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the Lord. Psalm 31:24.

In heavenly love abiding. No change my heart shall fear; And safe is such confiding. For nothing changes here.

A true christian that has power over his own may live nobly and happily and enjoy a clear heaven within the serenity of his own mind perpetually. When the sea of this world is most rough and tempestuous about him, then can he ride safely within the haven by a compliance of his will with God's will. He who has the mastery over his own will feels no violence from without, finds no contents within; and when God calls him out of this world he finds in himself the power to lay down his own life, neither is it so much taken from him as it is quietly and freely surrendered up by him to God who gave it.

They were unpacking their goods for a week-end's camping. "George!" thundered the massive wife as she came upon an unopened bottle of whisky, "what's the meaning of this?"

"That's all right, my dear. I brought it along to stoke a candle in when it's empty."

Apples growing on neighboring trees were baked by the intense heat of the flames during a sawmill fire at Dursley, South Hants, England, in 1880.

Blamed are the nobodies. The calamities that befall great nations are brought about only by great men.

Bandit Is Killed

Italy's Public Enemy No. 1 Is Slain By A Shepherd

Italy's public enemy No. 1, Domenico Diana, accused of 10 murders during the past five months, was killed by a shepherd armed only with a small pocket knife.

After a hand to hand tussle, the shepherd killed the bandit, who had eluded a nation-wide search during the past few months.

Some time ago the bandit was convicted of participating in a hold-up. He swore to murder every witness at the trial and when released from prison five months ago proceeded to carry out the threat.

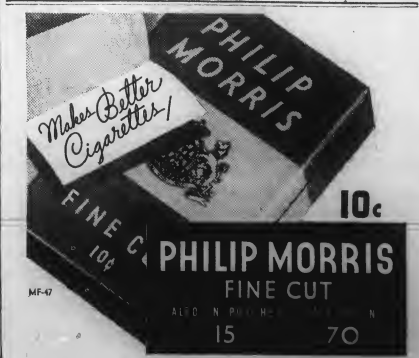

The star Arcturus is 11,000,000 times farther away from the earth than the sun.

Action Well Advised

Fort William Board Of Health Bans Auto Horn Tooting

The Fort Arthur News-Chronicle reports that the Fort William Board of Health is taking action to stop the nuisance of auto horn tooting and says it is well advised. Auto horns are tooted too often and too long. Autos should, as a rule, be seen and not heard. The best drivers scarcely ever use the horn. They drive where the road is open, and when necessary, use the brakes. They don't go around the streets blowing their horns to warn every one else to keep out of the way.

Gold hoardings in India are such that no one can accurately estimate the amount; the common estimates, however, set it at above $5,000,000.

We need a reduction of government machinery, a reduction of taxation, and to eliminate party patronage.—H. Napier Moore

NOTES ON LADIES' AND MEN'S STYLES OF INTEREST TO ALL

It would be interesting to note the trend of styles in shoes and dresses for Milady. Frank Abousafy's store is showing three new styles in the low heel type which have proved popular in the fashion centres. They are not only fashionable, but are reasonably priced, to meet the popular demand.

This fast becoming popular store is keeping up-to-date in styles and every morning you may see parcels coming in to keep the stock fresh and well-assorted.

This week a large shipment of Party Dresses are expected, for the week-end, which may be interesting to see.

Contrary to popular belief, Men's Styles don't always stay the same; as a matter of fact they are running the ladies quite a race, so much so, that this store sees fit to bring new shirts nearly every month to keep up with the new patterns. Shirts and ties as a feature this week and the next may bring one of the finest stocks together in preparation for the Christmas trade.

Space does not allow too much explanation as to the progress and developments planned. We assure you that you will do well to see the large circular displaying the most attractive prices in this neighborhood, and whether you want to dress up in style or otherwise, you will find the Frank Abousafy store an excellent place in which to shop.

WRONG CONCLUSIONS

Half truths and wrong conclusions, reply representatives of the oil industry, in answer to claims of the head of a well-known financial agency who recently claimed that fuel oil prices in a certain territory had been exorbitantly high.

In his article he claimed that with a recent advance in price, fuel oil had been lifted 27 per cent in three years. The reply was that his view, as he expressed them, gave an entirely erroneous survey of conditions in the oil industry.

To keep the record straight the oil industry turned to a United States government record for May which showed that commodities covered in the general classification of "fuel and lighting" are 77.2 per cent of the 1926 index of 100. All commodities are given a rating of 87.4. The index for the price of petroleum products is only 60.9 per cent of the 1926 figure, the lowest of all industrial products listed.

Bituminous coal, which was mentioned in the article, is 95.5 and anthracite coal 74.2. Gas and electricity with both of which comparisons were made unfavorably to oil, are actually in excess of 80. —B-21.
